Marnie Schneider has been busy writing the Football Freddie book series. Football Freddie and Fumble the Dog Game Day books are in Philadelphia, the Carolinas, and now Atlanta! (Pittsburgh and Chicago coming soon.) The books have been top sellers on Amazon and Barnes and Noble for the past year! She writes with her mother, Susan Tose Spencer, former VP/Legal Counsel and GM of the Philadelphia Eagles, her teenage daughter, Goldie, and her teenage son (a cancer survivor), Jonathan. Her youngest son, Leonardo, will join in soon! Marnie writes the Football Freddie book series to promote literacy and share with readers of all ages the wonderful sights, sounds, and flavors of the USA. She shares, "When families join in the fun Game Day experience with Freddie, Fumble, and their friends, they're engaged and learning and sharing facts and history without even realizing it!"
